NO THANKS, I AM NOT INTERESTED!

"44.07% of employees agree that gift cards are the "best rewards to receive," while 27.12% agree that they are "good rewards to receive". Academic studies continue to show that non-tangible rewards (such as gift cards) are as effective, if not more, as the cash based incentives."

Situation

You work as a trainee for an e-commerce shipping company that has more than 150 employees. Your boss wants to thank his/her employees for their good job over the last 6 months as the turnover has increased significantly. You go and see the boss to convince him/her that you have found the best way to do so. Prepare your arguments.

Use the following hints:

- Figures of the academic study given
- Benefits for the employees
- Impact that rewarding 150 employees would have on the company.
